

Subject – REACH Policy

1/1/21

Registration, Evaluation, Authorization, and Restriction of Chemicals is a regulation adopted by the European Union to manage the use of chemicals within the EU. Guidelines have been established for substances within the European Economic Area and apply to all entities that reside there.

Nanshan America Advanced Aluminum Technologies has decided not to register and evaluate their products for REACH approval based on the following.

1. REACH only applies to entities within the EEA and Nanshan America Advanced Aluminum Technologies does not maintain a presence within the aforementioned location.
2. Nanshan America Advanced Aluminum Technologies does not export any substances or articles to a location within the EEA.

In the case Nanshan America Advanced Aluminum Technologies decides to expand into the EEA whether through exportation or a new facility, this policy will be revisited.
